You are invited to participate in the inaugural Clinical Network, clinicalnet

A network for Heads of Clinical Operations, focused on sharing best practice to define excellence in delivery of clinical trials.

Navitas is pleased to announce that we will be adding to our portfolio of industry leading networks with the launch of clinicalnet. The network has been formed to meet industry demand to explore new ways to create transformational value from clinical operations.

Date: 15 June in New York; 22 June in London | Time: 09:30 - 16:00

What is clinicalnet?

Clinicalnet is a industry discussion forum for clinical operations leaders, focused on improving efficiency and quality of clinical trial management. Clinicalnet focuses on how to implement patient centric trials with a risk-based approach to clinical trial management with quality by design. Clinicalnet aims to move clinical operations from compliance, to improve efficiency and ultimately create value for the organisation.

The forum will provide a platform to engage in peer-peer discussions, network and exchange insights into this new era of clinical operations

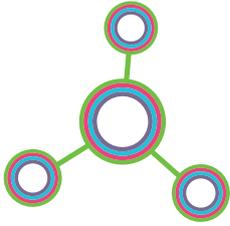

We look forward to your participation at the forum. Please be advised that 2-3 seats will be available per organisation.

Who should participate?

- Leaders within Clinical Operations, Clinical Development, Clinical Data Management

Who to contact?
